

As we round out 2016 with our November 15th quarterly meeting being held at the Union League, I wanted to say thank you to our members for your feedback and recommendations throughout 2016. With your continued input and support, the FPA Philadelphia board continues to be committed to delivering pertinent and quality content during our annual events.

Further, I can't thank you enough for spending time away from your professional pursuits to attend our quarterly CE programs and most recently our FPA Fall Retreat. The FPA board certainly enjoyed networking with our fellow members during the Fall Retreat and more importantly listening to your feedback in order to improve our future programming. Moreover, we received excellent feedback in regards to our speakers and some noteworthy highlights (based on member insights) came from Mike Byrnes engaging presentation on five ways to grow your business & Andy Knott's always informative ethics presentation.

As for future events, please mark your calendars for our next quarterly CE event being held on November 15th at the Union League located in Philadelphia, Pa. Further, we will have continuing education credit presentations starting at 04:00 pm and the presentations will be followed by cocktails & hor d'oeuvres during our networking session.

As this is our final event for quarterly education in 2016, the FPA board (in attendance) would certainly enjoy hearing your input for future event locations and speakers you would like to see present at our future meetings in 2017.

Lastly, if you have attended our prior quarterly events & symposiums for 2016 and have additional thoughts to share please don't hesitate to contact the FPA board of directors through our website: <http://www.fpaphilly.org/general/?type=CONTACT> or you can email me directly: nathan.hayward@concentuswealth.com
