

Remembering Survivors and Victims of Human Trafficking Inter-Religious Prayer Service

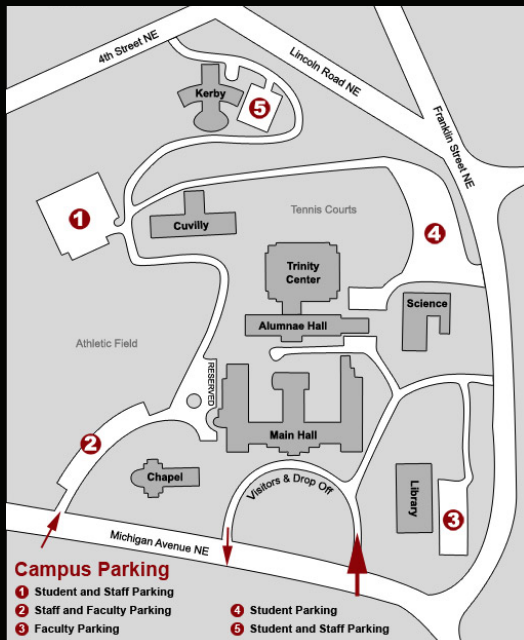

Join us for an evening of prayer and reflection, as diverse religious leaders contemplate the power of working together to end modern-day slavery.

Become inspired to act in solidarity with those who suffer in silence as we observe the International Day of Prayer and Awareness against Human Trafficking.

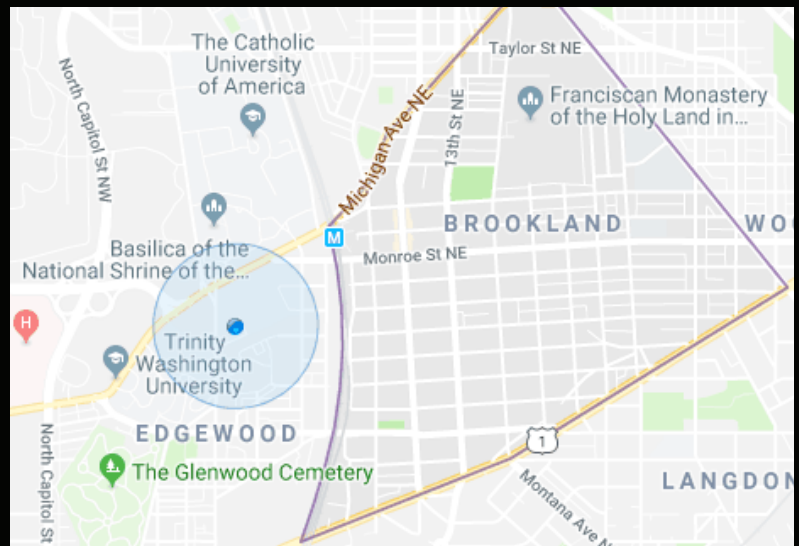

When: Thursday, February 8, 2018
6:30 PM, Prayer Service
7:45 PM, Reception

Where: Trinity University, Campus Chapel
125 Michigan Avenue, NE
Washington, DC 20017

Directions and Parking

Campus Map: Parking is available for free. The security guard at the main entrance can inform you where to park.

The nearest Metro stop is on the Red Line at Brookland/Catholic University. Trinity is a short walk southwest along Michigan Avenue. A shuttle also runs every twenty minutes from the Metro as an alternative to walking.
