CHEMISTRY OF COMMUNICATION

Potent solutions to transform workplace relationships

Communication is like chemistry - Robyn shines a light on the brain science and communication habits that create positive outcomes and those that can create toxic ones. You'll discover how to combine the right elements to develop communication chemistry that increases productivity, morale & engagement and improves relationships and the bottom line.

PRESENTATION REVELATION

Strategies & skills for speaking up and standing out

One of the most effective marketing tools available is the ability to slay a presentation whether on a stage, at a meeting or in 1-1 conversation. But there's no one-size-fits all way to present. You need to identify what sets you apart, own your value and become a leader who generates a powerful buzz and catapults your business to success. You need to E.X.C.E.L. - Engage, eXcite, Connect, Educate, Lead. This program gives you the skills and mindset to make that happen.

REFRAME YOUR END GAME!

Unlock blocks to get to the best you've got!

There's significant research to prove that the way we think affects our reality. But many of us have a hard time imagining how things could be different. Sharing lessons learned through her journey from awkward child (her literal nickname was "Shy") to professional actor and speaker, Robyn inspires you to strip off roles that no longer fit, re-envision your story, step up your end game and learn to SHINE.

About Robyn

Robyn is a dynamic keynote speaker, communication expert, author, thought leader and award-winning actor. She's transformed thousands of business leaders, with corporate programs and interactive keynote presentations that add immediate and lasting value.

Robyn uses her 15 plus years in the entertainment industry and her experience as a certified Neuro Linguistic Programming practitioner to inspire, invigorate and leave attendees with tangible skills they can apply the very next day.

In 2018, Robyn appeared on Good Morning America speaking about the “me Too” movement and is thrilled and honored to have recently been named one of the '21 Leaders for the 21st Century' 2019 by Women's eNews!
