

Red Katz

High Energy Speaker. Insightful Facilitator.
Experienced Coach.

Red Katz Delivers Results, Using Humor for Maximum Impact.

Red's big breakthrough was the discovery that PASSION is an organization's most precious and underutilized resource.

Red uses his keynotes, workshops, and coaching sessions as opportunities to teach professionals how to rediscover, recharge, and reboot their own individual passions—empowering organizations to unleash more profits, achieve higher productivity, and enjoy greater performance.

Helping Individuals and Organizations Achieve More

Red has already shared his passion with thousands of people, enabling them to tap into their inner resources and achieve more than they've ever dreamed.

Professional speaker, results-driven coach, and engaging workshop facilitator. These are just three ways to describe Red Katz.

Forget motivational speaking. This is motivational "peaking".

Business-Related Background and Accomplishments

As an entrepreneur, Red has built three separate organizations, and his experiences have taught him that top performers all share three "X-factors" of success:

1. Positive, "I can do it no matter what" attitude
2. Powerful passion
3. Strong support system

Among his many accomplishments, Red has motivated large teams, raised capital, and streamlined processes to dramatically exceed revenue and profit objectives. He has also helped "The Accessories Place" become a major vendor of fashion accessories with multimillion dollar sales and double-digit year over year profitability.

Some of his past work experiences include: Sales Executive at New York Accessory Group, Founder and President of The Accessories Place, and Founder and President of Mazz NYC Inc.

Red's personal passions are his friends and family, playing racquetball, The Mankind Project, and traveling.
