

Joseph Battaglia, the speaker of the event has been an insurance professional for over 30 years and specializing in the Medicare industry for over 10 years (since the Medicare Modernization Act in 2006). He is the Principal of Senior Services of North America which is one of the area's largest organizations in the Northeast, assisting Employers with their retiring employees to make the transition from group health to their individual Medicare health insurance.

We take pride in providing a seamless, stress-free experience to navigate the Medicare marketplace. Also being an accomplished (as well as published) motivational speaker, he is well respected in the Industry for his straight forward professionalism with both the insurance carriers, HR professionals as well as the retirees.

Senior Services of North America is a proud sponsor of SHRM Long Island, as well as an approved instructor by both SHRM and HRCI providing credits for both organizations.
