

FACULTY FOCUS

Addressing the Needs of Diverse Student Populations

The University of Memphis is a wonderfully diverse campus. We benefit greatly by such diversity in and out of the classroom. If your student is interested in resources or support services to enhance their cultural competence or support their needs as students from diverse backgrounds, we recommend contacting Multicultural Affairs.

Additionally, we have services for student populations, such as our veteran and military families. Our new Veterans and Military Student Services Coordinator, Marcallina S. James, is committed to learning from faculty about how we can work more collaboratively to support this student population.
