A New York lawyer runs a stop sign and gets pulled over by an Alabama cop.

He thinks that he is smarter than the cop because he is a lawyer from New York and is certain that he has a better education than any person in Alabama, much less a cop.

He decides to prove this to himself and have some fun at the cop's expense!

The cop says, "License and registration, please."

The lawyer says, "What for?"

The cop says, "Ya'll didn't come to a complete stop at the stop sign."

The lawyer says, "I slowed down, and there was no-one else around, so I kept going."

The cop says, "Ya'll still didn't come to a complete stop. License and registration, please"

The lawyer says, "What's the difference?"

The cop says, "The difference is, ya'll have come to complete stop, that's the law. License and registration, please!"

The Lawyer says, "If you can show me what the difference is between slow down and stop, when there is no-one else around, I'll give you my license and registration and you can give me the ticket. If not, you let me go and don't give me the ticket."

The cop says, "Sounds fair." Then he grabs the lawyer and drags him out of the car, looks around and sees there is no-one else around and starts beating the living crap out of the lawyer.

The lawyer is screaming and crying and the cop asks him

"There is no-one else around, so do ya'll want me to stop or slow down?"
