

Oklahoma Program for Continuing Education in Social Work in Tulsa

1-4 PM

June 2, 2017

End of Life Ethics

*OU Tulsa Schusterman Center
4502 E. 41st Street, Learning Center Rm 145
Tulsa, OK 74135*

Facilitator:

Jan Slater, JD, MBA
Faculty, Bioethics Center
Oklahoma University School of Community Medicine
Tulsa, Oklahoma 74135

Three CEU Credits in Ethics approved for LCSW licensure

At the end of the presentation the audience should be able to:

1. Recognize the elements for evaluating an individual's capacity or competence.
2. Understand what constitutes a "Good Death" for patients and healthcare professionals.
3. Identify the purpose and benefit of Advance Care Planning.
4. Explain the basic principles of the primary Oklahoma Laws that regulate end-of-life care.
5. Recognize and explain the benefits of the POLST form.
6. Demonstrate how to speak to patients and family members about how to make end-of-life care decisions.

Master Presenter

Jan Slater, JD, MBA., After receiving her B.A. in Biochemistry from Ottawa University in Kansas, Ms. Slater worked for several years in the clinical/research laboratory of Kansas University Medical Center. In 1980 she completed work on a Masters of Public Health with a major in Health Administration from Oklahoma

University Health Sciences Center. She subsequently served as an administrator of hospitals in Pawhuska and Ponca City.

In 1991 Ms. Slater received a duel degree of Jurist Doctorate and Masters of Business Administration graduated from the University of Tulsa and was employed by St. John Health System in Tulsa, Oklahoma to direct the development of the physician practice management program. From 1993 to 2009 she served as Corporate Legal Counsel for St. John Medical center and affiliate organizations. In June of 2009, she was appointed to the position of CEO of OSU Medical Center in Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Today Ms. Slater serves as the Executive Director of the Oklahoma Center for Healthcare Improvement and speaks on a regular basis concerning legal, administrative and ethical issues in the health care industry.

CLICK HERE TO REGISTER