

Alpenglow Law, LLC provides legal services to Colorado's modern mountain communities. Founding partners, Dan Reynolds and T.J. Voboril, are experienced attorneys who approach their craft with a bright outlook that puts their clients at ease even in the midst of complex deals or stressful conflicts.

Dan, a Colorado Super Lawyers Rising Star for Real Estate, focuses on real estate and business transactions, planning, and counsel. His real estate practice entails, among other things, negotiating and drafting contracts for the purchase, sale, and leasing of real estate as well as assisting with lending matters. His legal acumen and engaging personality help close deals in a smooth and expeditious manner.

T.J., a six-time Colorado Super Lawyers Rising Star for Business Litigation, dedicates his time to resolving conflicts of all types, whether through civil litigation, mediation, appeals, or conflict avoidance counseling. Able to handle most any subject matter, he concentrates on solving real estate, construction, business, homeowners' association, and employment disputes.

The partners also assist homeowners' associations in navigating the tricky waters of governance, management, collections, and litigation. Collectively, the firm represents more than 50 HOAs, from four-plexes to 800+ owner associations, residential to commercial to mixed-use.

With their homes and headquarters in the high country, the duo at Alpenglow Law, LLC understand the unique requirements of the mountain lifestyle. They are not only lawyers, but fathers, husbands, friends, skiers, bikers, and community leaders.

Reach out to Alpenglow Law, LLC at \(970\) 306-4834 or info@alpenglowlaw.com to find out how Dan and T.J. can be of help to you, your business, or your organization.

T.J. Voboril and Dan Reynolds