child Protection

Campaign

May 2018

Child protection week is 28 May to 4 June and Connect Network has deemed May as Child Protection Month.

There are several ways to join us in promoting Child Protection issues within your organisation and community.

what you can do

1. Wear your green ribbon

Be a child advocate by wearing your green ribbon, displaying it in your organisations or on your cars.

2. Knit a green beanie for a child

Hand the beanies out to children in need in your communities to create awareness and get conversations going about Child Protection issues.

3. Attend the service of Hope & Blessing

We all come together once per year to pray for all of the children in our spheres of influence. The details for this year are:

Sunday 27 May

10:00 am

Gardens Presbyterian Church

151 Hatfield Street

Gardens, Cape Town

what your organisation can do

1. Get creative!

- Wrap trees in green fabric in your communities
- Hand out green ribbons at your local schools, churches and traffic lights
- Knit green beanies as a staff building time
- Create a new event!

Take pictures to share what you're doing with the network!

2. Implement the Good Treatment Campaign

It is about children saying “Enough! No more violence.”

Supported by project leaders, child advocates take to city streets to talk with adults, and give them information cards, about how they treat their children. Parents who have behaved badly towards children pledge to change their ways.

This campaign falls directly in line with Connect's Safe Community Strategy.

Goals:

- Adults in the community will know how to treat children better
- The number of adults involved is measured
- Children understand how they should be treated
- Children are empowered to advocate for good treatment

By signing the promise card, children, together with their mentors will introduce the 5 ways to treat children better:

1. Tell them that you love them every day
2. Listen to what they have to say and spend time with them
3. Accept them as they are and recognise their qualities
4. Support their learning and train them to accept good values
5. Teach them responsibility and help them to resolve their conflicts

The main parts of the programme are:

The Promise Card

- Wallet-sized cards
- Two-sided
- Adults sign and keep their own card

Preparing Children for the Campaign

- Conduct a half day training or a few short sessions
- Help them to understand the issues they will be discussing
- Show them how to present the questionnaire (role play)
- Show them how to deal with responses
- Talk to them about they'll be kept safe
- Pray with them about the event and the people they will talk to

Preparing Adults for the Campaign

- Conduct a 2 to 3 hour session with the Action Group
- Make sure they understand the issues
- Review the safeguarding procedures of the children
- Conduct role play of likely scenarios
- Discuss the practicalities of supervising the teams of children
- Pray with them about the event and the people they will talk to

The campaign is guided by our joint vision as a network:

“To see children safe, well and fulfilling their God-given potential.

To also see children not only treated well by the adults around them, but also for the children themselves to be aware of how they should be treated and to be participants of ensuring their own good treatment.”
