2017-18 Theme: Know God

August 30, 2017

August Theme Verse:

John 17:3

And this is eternal life, that they know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent.

Devotional

John 17:3 reads: “And this is eternal life, that they know you, the only true God, and Jesus Christ whom you have sent.” True eternal life is to know God by experiencing Him through Jesus, not just knowing about Him. This brings peace to our lives. It also makes the gospel of Jesus more pressing to those around us who do not have the peace of eternal life. As J.I. Packer writes in the book Knowing God: “There is no peace like the peace of those whose minds are possessed with full assurance that they have known God, and God has known them, and that relationship guarantees God’s favor to them in life, through death and on forever.” There is no better time than now to remind the parents and families who send their children to Redwood Christian Schools of our Mission Statement: “The mission of Redwood Christian Schools is to provide a Christ-centered education which is able to equip students for daily living and eternal life.” In other words, to truly know God and Jesus Christ whom He has sent.

Mr. Hearne’s Recommended Resources:

Proficiency in reading helps in so many areas of life, such as improving focus and concentration, building critical thinking skills, expanding imagination, increasing vocabulary, and reducing stress. It’s also a way for parents to bond with their children. Building reading skills is part of a growth mindset, even the most advanced readers can always get better at reading. Two of the resources below are about the importance of reading (one is about ways to keep reading interesting and fun for your child and the other is about the importance of parents continuing to read aloud to their children). The third is the AXIS Cultural Translator to help keep you informed about what is happening in our culture.

Fabulous Five

Mrs. Wilson: 5th grade rocked Oreo towers while discussing and documenting mean, median, mode, and range. Nothing better than making data analysis tasty.

Mrs. Vincent: 14 new international students, who have never used a Bible before, have memorized the names of the first 5 Books of the Bible and are learning Bible verses.

Mrs. Blackburn: A first grader said to me, "Mrs. Blackburn, at my old school we never got to cut things out!! I think I am going to really like Art!"

Mr. Gillette: Middle schoolers got a chance to see the eclipse on Monday. See a photo here.

Mrs. Yip: We are moving fast! We have begun to dig deeply into our interactive math notebooks. Students are learning how to apply their learning in a way which incorporates literacy and art. They are learning to problem solve using specific strategies recorded in their notebooks. They are also building their math vocabulary and applying new math terminology to their responses as they solve math problems. One of the many things I want my students to understand: "It's okay to not know, but it's not okay not to try!"
