2017-18 Theme: Know God

October Theme Verse:

October 25, 2017

We will not hide them from their children, but tell to the coming generation the glorious deeds of the Lord, and His might, and the wonders that He has done - Psalm 78:4

Devotional

I love to watch a competitive athletic event and then be able to discuss it with those who show the slightest interest. As an analytical thinker, I discuss the defining moments of the game and try to identify the strategies of the teams. After all, anything worth discussing should have some value for the future . . . for me, I have had the privilege of coaching teams and athletes for the last 38 years of my life and I will probably do it again.

To a much greater degree, this verse tells us that there have been defining moments in history that reveal God's greatness, and certainly God's sovereignty still amazes us today. He is without any equal, nor is there anyone who can surpass all that He has done or will do. These things ought to flow from the mouths of parents to their children, grandchildren, and anyone else who will listen. But first, we must let the glorious work of the Gospel transform us. Has Christ become your greatest interest in your conversations with others?

In Christ, Albert Castaneda, MSHS Assistant Principal

Mr. Hearne's Recommended Resources:

We want for all of our students at RCS to develop the necessary skills to become leaders in the spheres of influence that God is calling them into. We want to be able to help them develop the skills necessary to become Christian leaders in a secular world. My first recommended resource, "15 Tips for Instilling Leadership Skills in Children" talks about what parents can do to instill leadership skills in their children. My second recommended resource, "The One Thing That's More Important Than Your Reputation" explains the difference between one's character and reputation, and the understanding necessary for up-and-coming leaders. As always, the third is the "Axis Cultural Translator" to keep you up-to-date on what is currently happening in our culture, especially regarding teen anxiety, depression, and suicide.

Fabulous Learning

Learning Comes Alive: This week, 5th graders loved using their iPads. 5W researched American Indian tribal regions, customs, tools, and more. 5N read news articles and answered questions about them each week. -Mrs. Wilson CLICK HERE

Rolling the Dice: This week, the 1st grade students had fun collaborating. They added numbers rolled on dice by counting from the largest number, and then effectively communicated their results with a Dot Cube Graph. -Ms. Orluck CLICK HERE

3V Goes 3D: This week, 3V made California maps using salt-and-flour dough. Next week we will paint the maps for the four different regions. -Mrs. Vanegas CLICK HERE

Visualize Narnia: The students in my 8th grade English class showed great critical thinking skills as they created original, symbolic book covers for The Voyage of the Dawn Treader. -Mrs. Suth CLICK HERE

Putting on a Show: Using Social and Cross Cultural skills students created a puppet talk show of famous Spanish artists. -Mrs. Sanchez CLICK HERE

2B is collecting new and gently used blankets for our North Bay neighbors.

Blankets are due in your child's classroom on or before Friday, Nov. 3rd.
