2017-18 Theme: Know God

February Theme Verse:

The heavens declare the glory of God, and the sky above proclaims his handiwork.

Psalm 19:1, ESV

February 14, 2018

Devotional

"The heavens declare the glory of God, and the sky above proclaims his handiwork." - Psalm 19:1. One way God chose to communicate His creativity, power, and love is through His creatures. As a mathematician, I can't resist the urging from this verse to proclaim the beauty and symmetry of math, which is a language created by God Himself! Math is the "language of science," which was created by God to give us the ability to analyze the way the universe works. Creation can be understood at a deep level through the study of science, and is communicated universally through the language of math. Therefore, the next time you gaze upon the heavens, consider the scientific and mathematic forces that exist to make your view possible, and then be in awe of the Creator that orchestrated that view with creativity, divinity, and love for His most prized creation: mankind!

Mr. Hearne's Recommended Resources:

I hope that today's first two recommended resources serve as educational reading for RCS parents and as appropriate discussion guides between parents and students regarding the harmful effects of smoking anything. In addition, to date, we do not know about JUULing taking place on campus. What is JUULing, you might ask? JUULing is a new type of e-cigarette that is supposed to help someone stop smoking. It has become a very popular social media topic, with many teenagers around the United States posting pictures of them JUULing. The first article, Everything You Need to Know About The JUUL, Including The Health Effects goes into detail about the JUUL, including many pictures of how a JUUL can look like a USB flash drive. The second article, "Juuling": The most widespread phenomenon you've never heard of explains how the JUUL has suddenly become so popular among students in the United States. As always, the third resource is the Axis "Cultural Translator."

Biology Frog Dissection Recap. There are many surgeons who say that they first discovered their life's passion standing over a dissected frog in a middle or high school biology class. See how our Biology students explored the anatomy of a frog! - Mr. Blatchford CLICK HERE

Band Honors. Congratulations to our Honor Band Instrumentalists who attended this year's Honor Band Festival in Ripon last Friday. These 11 MS students represented RCS alongside 10 other schools this year: Arvin Chen (percussion), Heidi Chen (flute), Jacob De Castro (alto saxophone), Tristan Flores (percussion), Josiah Kary (trumpet), Ethan King (trumpet), Bryan Niiya (bells), Joshua Prelipceanu (trumpet), Sara Ryan (trumpet), Gideon Warneke (trombone), and Malachi Warneke (baritone). Jacob De Castro (6th grade, alto saxophone) was even chosen to play a short solo during one of the pieces during the evening's concert. He "out played" 7 other saxophone players during an audition process to receive this honor! - Mr. Cagle CLICK HERE

Library Learning. Mrs. Conley's TKC class enjoys library time with book reading and special activities to accompany each story. If we are reading about donuts we enjoy mini donuts. If we are reading about cupcakes we try mini cupcakes. If we are learning about Nigeria we get hands on experience with artifacts from Nigeria. Interactive learning using all our senses from God makes learning fun and exciting - Mrs. Garcia CLICK HERE
