2017-18 Theme: Know God

November Theme Verse:

November 15, 2017

Jesus looked at them and said, "With man it is impossible, but not with God. For all things are possible with God."
Mark 10:27

Devotional

In Mark 10:27, Jesus is speaking to his disciples when He talks about all things being possible with God. He had just spoken with the rich young ruler. This young man had kept the law of the Old Testament but was unwilling to sacrifice his wealth and status to follow Christ. Jesus references the difficulty of getting to heaven on one's own power, comparing it to a camel going through the eye of a needle. This reference makes me continually thankful for God's love and grace. By sending His Son to die on the cross, He made the path to heaven available for all. It cannot be done through one's own power or effort: it is the beauty of grace.

Mr. Hearne's Recommended Resources:

The most important relationship that children can have growing up is with their parents. This is why God has assigned the homework of raising children to their parents. My first recommended resource is an article by Focus on the Family, "Build Relationships with Your Child," with six ideas of how to build a strong relationship. My second recommended resource, "50 Free or Cheap Things to Do with Kids," is aimed at providing a plethora of activities that can be done to help build a strong relationship with your child(ren). As always, the third resource is the "Axis Cultural Translator" to help you stay current with American culture.

Fabulous Learning

Did You See the Award Winning RCS Marching Band Participating in the Castro Valley Light Parade? This is only their second parade performance and they won the Musical Spirit Award! ~Mr. Cagle

Real Use for Fractions - In second grade math, students learned how to use fractions in real life. We put our mathematical skills to use, using fractions to help us make Apple Jacks cookies. ~Mrs. Haserot CLICK HERE

Glorifying God in Ministry - The Christian Ministry class did an amazing job of glorifying God during the "Navajo Night Out"! The students sold over 350 tickets to the event, helped to serve an amazing dinner, and then glorified God with their gifts, talents, and abilities. The team raised over $5,000 for the missions trip this spring. ~Mr. Hinton

RCS Is Better Than the Internet - "Slime" is a current sensation on the internet but can anyone on YouTube actually explain the chemistry behind it? RCS Chemistry students can!!! They not only made colorful "slime" they learned about intermolecular forces and hydrogen bonding and can explain what gives the gooey properties to this particularly fun substance. ~Mrs. Seganish

Do You Know the Difference Between a Penny and a Dollar? Students in kindergarten are learning the value of money, the difference between a penny and a dollar, and how to be savvy shoppers by using pennies to purchase items in the classroom. ~Mrs. Bicker
