2017-18 Theme: Know God

January Theme Verse:

January 31, 2018

But the Helper, the Holy Spirit, whom the Father will send in my name, he will teach you all things and bring to your remembrance all that I have said to you. –John 14:26

Devotional

King David declared in Psalm 19:1, “The heavens declare the glory of God, and the sky above proclaims His handiwork.” This verse is often cited in reference to how God has provided general revelation of His existence to all people of all time. David is telling us that we can know God exists by looking to the heavens because they “declare the glory of God.” The idea behind the English word “glory” is difficult to actually capture due to the limitations of English. It means honor, splendor, or greatness, but it is also so much more than this!!! It means amazing, awesome, blinding, dazzling, illustrious, magnificent, marvelous, radiant, splendid, and wonderful. Yet each of these words in some way limit God’s glory. It’s not enough to know that God exists, God wants us to enter into a personal relationship with Him. The only true way that we can understand God’s glory is to experience it for ourselves, by entering into a personal relationship with God and surrendering our lives to fulfill His will and calling.

In Christ, Al Heame II, Superintendent

Mr. Hearne’s Recommended Resources:

We are in the midst of winter, and spring will soon be here! With spring will come the annual spring cleaning. While listening to a Focus on the Family podcast this week, with guest Joshua Becker, I began to ponder the philosophical idea of all the "stuff" that I collect. My garage is a constant battle to keep clean and organized. Why? I've got a lot of "stuff" that I keep, just in case I might need it someday. All this stuff just takes time and I've been wondering, where should I spend my time? My first recommended resource is a one-minute summary of the full podcast, “The Pile of Things” (you'll also be able to get the full program if interested). After listening to the podcast, I explored Joshua's website, www.becomingminimalist.com, and came across his blog post, “35 Gifts Your Children Will Never Forget.” I believe that Joshua has spoken a great truth; our children are more important than our stuff and it's our children who need our time, love, and attention. My third recommended resource is, the Axis Cultural Translator.

Fabulous Learning

5W Down to Business. A new semester meant it was time for new classroom jobs (and math application): Bankers were quick to get to work on pay checks while police officers handed out fines. Payday means rent is due and fines must be paid! - Mrs. Wilson

Personalized Learning. Advanced Math students are making math art with the unit circle. They are connecting the sine and cosine curve to the x and y values on the circle. -Mrs. Clausen CLICK HERE

Congress is in Session. In 3V, we have been learning about how the government works. On Thursday, the students became men and women of 3V Congress. President Vanegas allowed the Congress to create a rule or idea for the class. It was all student lead. The Congress presented the idea of a class pet. The idea is in motion, but President Vanegas and her team are still deliberating. -Mrs. Vanegas CLICK HERE

We Wear the Mask. Junior English students spent a few days creating a comparative mask after reading "We Wear the Mask," by Paul Laurence Dunbar. This was a whole brain activity that asked students to use their ability to analyze and be creative. -Mrs. Cherry
