Program Description:

What can we do to help our toddler listen to what we say? What causes tantrums? Can they be prevented? Are they a normal part of development? Why do so many tantrums occur around transition times? Most importantly, how can you survive the trying twos? Learn what is happening that makes the behavior of toddlers so challenging, how to prevent many tantrums, and ways to work through tantrums and transitions with less trauma for everyone! Some survival tips with toddlers will also be given during this presentation. Bring questions!
