To support your deduction, keep a written receipt from the charity showing its name and address, the date and location of the contribution, and a reasonable description of the property. Keep a record of how you acquired the property, its cost, its fair market value and how figured, and anything received in return or conditions. A gift worth $5000 or more, requires a qualified written appraisal. If you donate similar items to a charity in one year, their values are combined. Have these by the earlier of your due date or filing date. Larger contributions should be professionally verified.
