Mazal Tov

Mazal Tov to Jonah Herzberg Mayer and his family on becoming a Bar Mitzvah this morning. Thank you to the Herzberg Mayer family for sponsoring the kiddush in honor of Jonah.

At Temple Emanu-El, we seek to fashion an atmosphere of peace and tranquility on the Sabbath. To help create this environment throughout the Temple, we refrain from writing, taking photographs, texting, and using cell phones. Please join us in observing these traditions as we make Shabbat a sacred experience for us all.

Marking the Sacred: The Temple Mount/Haram al-Sharif in Jerusalem

Providence College

June 5-7, 2017

This collaborative and ecumenical conference provides a common forum for leading international scholars to address the history and archaeology of this extraordinary 35-acre platform and its sacred status. The project seeks to be an agent of dialogue by bringing together diverse scholars in the humanities whose research furthers our understanding of the site and its historical context. Marking the Sacred is an opportunity for experts on the Jewish, Christian, and Muslim traditions to engage in unique and fruitful discussions leading to a scholarly publication that will reach a worldwide academic audience in multiple disciplines.

PEOPLE OF THE BOOKS

Is there a Jewish book that inspired you?
A good beach novel? A work of poetry?
One that you read to your kids?
Or maybe that your parents read to you?
An author that provoked you?
One you think someone else might enjoy?

Come share your book with us &
participate in a Jewish book show & tell!

Saturday, June 10 after kiddush in the Bohnen Vestry

"We may have the same books, but we highlight entirely different passages."

The Temple Emanu-El Library invites you to a community-wide book show and tell. Just show up with a book in hand and we will go around the room, one person at a time, and tell each other what our books are about and why we care about them.

Refreshments will be served. RSVPs are not required. However, if you would like to ensure that the library has a copy of your book, or if you would like to donate a gift copy of your book to the library, please email Temple Librarian Joshua Jasper: jjasper@teprov.org

NEW CHILDRENS BOOKS IN THE ROSEN LIBRARY

There are so many new children's books at the Rosen Library. Just since the start of May, almost ONE HUNDRED books have been added to the Children's book section of the Rosen Library, both in the children's book cart as well as the Juvenile bookcase. These new books include holiday books for throughout the Jewish year, in addition to Folktales and other general books on Jewish themes.

If you haven't visited the Rosen Library Children's section in a long time, it's about time that you and your children take a visit to see the new books to discover. There are just so many books, that they'll be mixed in with the old favorites. As always, some of the Rosen Library's children's book collection can be read in the downstairs playroom as well as the back of the main sanctuary, on a rotational basis. But along with the rest of the library, the entire Rosen Library is open every day to check these new books out!
