The Door.....Thoughts on Reformation

As I was preparing for our Reformation Celebration, I learned something interesting about that day 500 years ago. I always thought it was a huge, rebellious, courageous, and brave moment when our beloved monk marched through the streets loudly and proudly to nail the 95 thesis to the bare, ornate church door. But, the church door was a place where numerous items would have been nailed. This was a time before facebook, twitter, cell phones or even telephones. This door was a place where many nailed items for discussion about theological topics. It was also a place where notices about activities were posted. It was simply a large church bulletin board. And here Martin nailed 95 questions about salvation—he questioned the money making indulgence plan that was being done by the church. And he wanted to talk about this little thing called GRACE! And it started a reformation of the church—Praise God!

So this is what I love about being a Lutheran, this is why I stick around in this fast, hip world where I could easily be plucked away by groovier churches. WE STILL HAVE THAT DOOR! Within our congregation, we are still allowed and encouraged to bring up topics for discussion. When I was a wee teen in small town North Dakota, I remember our church discussing the idea of ordaining women. As a church we ask tough questions and listen to each other even though we may disagree. We still have the freedom to nail our questions and concerns about theological thoughts and social issues in our world. We understand that our salvation is all based in grace, through Christ Crucified! We are free to discuss thoughts, scripture, theology—BECAUSE we understand that our salvation is already done freely in Christ through grace.

Trinity—this Sunday, we are coming together at 9:15 to talk about the future ministries of Hope and Trinity. This idea has been nailed to the door....how let's all gather to discuss and listen to each other. Hope to see you! - TAMMY

Reformation Sunday was an amazing day! It was a celebration of the GRACE in Christ that we share as a church family. From the bratwurst and sauerkraut, to the worship music, to the crazy and fun Holyween Party, to the laughter of Martin Luther Bobbleheads, to LWF quilts and kits, to kids singing this Little light of mine with flashlights in a dark sanctuary – It was a day to celebrate our faith in a merciful and loving God. Thanks to everyone who participated.
