Calvert Marine
MUSEUM

Our Seniors Ministry is sponsoring a trip to the Calvert Marine Museum on Thursday, October 26. All seniors are invited to carpool to the museum in Solomons Island, MD. We need to know how many are coming and if you need a ride or can offer to take others in your car, as well as make lunch reservations. We need a minimum of 12 people. Please arrive at the museum by 10:00 a.m. for our private group tour by our own Sherrod Sturrock, Museum Director. We will go to the nearby Kingfisher restaurant for a delicious "Dutch treat" lunch followed by a return to the museum for a short cruise on the 60-foot, 9 log "bugeye" oyster boat, "William B. Tennyson." Finally, we will return home about 4 p.m. with pleasant memories of our time together. The cost is $12 per person plus the cost of your lunch. Call Bonnie Dean or speak to Pastor Don ASAP to reserve your spot!

BREAKFAST CLUB SUMMER 2017 REPORT

The Breakfast Club is a joint ministry of six local churches to feed children in mobile home estates over the summer who normally receive free breakfast and lunch at school, but when school is out for the summer, their options are limited. Breakfast Club provides them with a daily bag of cereal, milk, fresh fruit, juice and a snack, as well as a bag of food for a weekend meal for the family. This year we extended the program to a third mobile home park and for an extra week of summer vacation. Another feature was the Free Book Giveaway Program with nine free book days this summer. We also gave out children's and adult Bibles.

Thank you to all the F'UMC members who supported this ministry. Our congregation gave generously financially, worked bagging and delivering breakfast bags, donated books through Vacation Bible School, sorted and handed out books, donated snacks, and prayed for the ministry. Nine-thousand seventy-five breakfast bags were given out: 5,001 to Lyon's Creek, 814 to Rio Vista, and 3,260 to Patuxent! Thanks be to God!

HEALTH MINISTRY NEWS

What you need to know about Influenza...

Influenza ("the flu") is a viral infection of the lungs and airways. The flu typically causes a fever, sore throat, and/or cough. Other signs of flu can include runny or stuffy nose, body aches, headache, and fatigue.

The flu tends to occur mostly in the fall and winter months in the United States. Many people get the flu each year. The flu can lead to hospitalization; the risk of hospitalization is highest for adults over 65 years, children under 5 years, and those with certain medical conditions.

The flu is contagious. Most people are contagious from 1 day before showing symptoms to 5 to 7 days after symptoms begin. People who have the flu can spread the virus by sneezing or coughing. The droplets produced by a sneeze or cough can be inhaled by people who are nearby. People can also catch the flu by touching something with the virus on it, such as doorknobs or other surfaces.

Many people with the flu recover at home by resting, getting plenty of fluids, and taking an over-the-counter pain reliever as needed. There are prescription antiviral medications that can be used to treat the flu. These drugs can shorten the duration and lessen the severity of the illness; they are most effective when started soon after you are diagnosed with the flu. Your healthcare provider can determine if you should be treated with medication. Prevention is the best protection against contracting the flu. Thorough and frequent handwashing, or use of an alcohol-based hand sanitizer, can reduce the germs that you are exposed to. Avoiding those sick with the flu can also reduce your risk of exposure. Receiving the influenza vaccine each fall can reduce your chances of contracting the flu. The vaccine is not effective against all strains of the flu virus. It is formulated each year to protect against the strains most likely to circulate that year.
