FACTS ABOUT KIDNEY SUPPORTIVE CARE

Less than 50% of dialysis patients have advance directives.

Less than 10% of dialysis patients have had conversations about end-of-life care with their physicians.

It is estimated that pain is under treated in 75% of ESRD patients.

For patients > 80 years old, renal replacement therapy may confer no survival advantage over conservative management.

The dialysis population has an adjusted 76% 1-year survival rate and only a 40% 5-year survival rate.
