Founded in 2008 by Barbara Bry, a high-tech entrepreneur and now San Diego City Council President Pro Tem, Run Women Run demonstrates that forward thinking women with passion can change the status quo.

For 10 years, Run Women Run has connected women in San Diego with local leaders and mentors, provided campaign support, organized campaign bootcamps and trainings, and hosted biennial endorsement meetings to provide a welcoming forum for emerging women leaders.

As a nonpartisan, member-driven association we seek to bring rationality and accountability back to government by identifying, mentoring, and supporting the election of qualified, pro-choice women to local, state, and federal office.

On Saturday, December 1st we are gathering to celebrate the women who have stepped up to run for office this year, and honor the 10 year legacy of our endorsed candidates who have gone on to become local, statewide, and national leaders. We invite you to be a part of this important milestone by investing in our future leaders through sponsoring this special event.
