

Elaine is a Phi Beta Kappa graduate of Harvard College (1979) and the Yale Law School (1982). Her law practice, Kwartin, Levine & Marlow, LLP, focuses on wills, trusts, probate, family law and elder law. KLM's offices are near North Druid Hills and Buford Highway.

For the past 22 years, Elaine has represented over 800 individuals and families in a variety of legal matters but primarily estate planning, wills and trusts, and probate. Elaine has helped clients with practical solutions as they address the stresses and difficulties of raising children, as well as end-of-life planning and transitions in this complicated world. Her clients range from young married couples to the elderly, life partners and single people.

Elaine is a leader in the legal and financial communities. She serves on the Board of Directors of the Elder Law Section and the Estate Planning and Probate Section of the Atlanta Bar and on the Board of Directors of the Financial Planning Association of Georgia. She is also the past president and is an active committee member with the Georgia Association for Women Lawyers.
