

iNTA - 6th International Network of Tropical Architecture Conference – www.inta2017.org

Tropical Storms as a Setting for Adaptive Development and Architecture

The 6th iNTA2017 conference “Tropical Storms as a Setting for Adaptive Development and Architecture” at the University of Florida December 1st - 3rd 2017, will provide a platform for research and policy pertaining to tropical and subtropical regions that address the environmental problems associated with an increasingly dense world facing climate variability, sea level rise and flooding risks in a moment when these issues are understood as critical in cities and coastal areas across the world.

Public agencies, researchers and professional from Singapore, Malaysia, Philippines, Australia, Kenya, Italy, India, Indonesia, United States, as well as from Mexico, Jamaica, Cuba, Dominican Republic, and Puerto Rico, will attend the conference to discuss adaptive strategies in the areas of architecture, construction, engineering, planning, historic preservation, land use and policy, real estate, environmental law, social and economic policy.

Invited speakers include: Dina Ionesco, Head of United Nations IOM Migration, Environment and Climate Change Division; Richard Hassell, Founding Director, WOHA Architects; Jane Gilbert, Chief Resilience Officer City of Miami; Reinaldo Borges, AIA, ULI, NCARB; Hugh Dutton, Principle of Hugh Dutton Associates (HDA); David Gouverneur, Author of Planning and Design for Future Informal Settlements and Professor University of Pennsylvania; Daniel Vasini, Creative Director / NY-Rotterdam Liaison West 8 Urban Design & Landscape Architecture. For more information visit www.inta2017.org

Organized by: UF Center for Hydro-Generated Urbanism (CHU), International Network of Tropical Architecture (iNTA), the National University of Singapore (NUS), and UF College of Design, Construction and Planning.

Venue: Emerson Alumni Hall, University of Florida – December 1st – 3rd 2017.

Conference co-Chairs: Nancy Clark - Director CHU, Nawari Nawari – Ph.D., P.E., F.ASCE, University of Florida, USA.

