MILLET, John Bradford Jr. Age 74, of Estero, Florida and Plymouth Massachusetts, died peacefully after a brief battle with cancer at home in Florida on February 14, 2017. He was married for 52 years to Roberta (Robbie) Millet and leaves behind daughters Wendy Millet (and Robert Trice) of Menlo Park, California; Liza Millet (and Michael Dowda) and their daughter Zizi of Jackson, Wyoming; and Sarah Millet (and Spencer Hoffman) and their daughters Celia, Scarlett, and Gretel of Philadelphia, Pennsylvania. John graduated from Milton Academy, Harvard College ('64), and Harvard Business School ('67). His early business career took him to Chicago, St. Louis, and Boston, but John always dreamed of owning his own company and eventually settled in Clinton, New York, spending 40 years as President and CEO of Austin Mohawk and Co., Inc. He was active in many civic, community and cultural organizations and more recently was instrumental in developing a lifelong learning program in his Florida community and serving as chair of the strategic planning committee. John was a member of the Owl Club and Hasty Pudding Club at Harvard, the Sadaquada Golf Club, and the Adirondack League Club. He shared his love for tennis, golf, fishing, skiing, and traveling with all who knew him. He was a builder and creator who made many wedding rings for friends and family members. On Sunday mornings you could always find him in the kitchen making pancakes for family and friends. He loved to learn and explore, and he shared his abundant enthusiasm, optimism, and warm smile with the world. John will always be remembered as an incredibly kind, generous, caring man with a huge heart and a perfect bear hug. In lieu of flowers, please consider donating to the Community Foundation of Herkimer and Oneida Counties, 2608 Genesee St., Utica, NY 13502. A Memorial Service will be held in the spring.
