ABOUT THE 2017 MICHIGAN HOME VISITING CONFERENCE

The 2017 Michigan Home Visiting Conference is a conference for home visitors, administrators, and parents in Michigan's home visiting programs. The purpose of this conference is to provide ongoing education, skills and knowledge to professionals in Michigan's Home Visiting programs. This year the education will focus on: stress and trauma, addictions, father engagement, human trafficking, infant safe sleep, and parent mental health. Techniques to improve programs, access to community resources and self care for the home visitor will also be presented.

The 2017 Michigan Home Visiting Conference theme is Home is Where OUR Heart Is. A pre-conference for models will occur the day before the main conference. The conference will be held over two full days.

Keynote SPEAKERS

Dr. Brenda Jones Harden
Opening Keynote Speaker

Brenda Jones Harden is a Professor in the Department of Human Development and Quantitative Methodology, at the University of Maryland College Park. She has worked over thirty-five years in the human services policy, practice, and research arenas. Her research examines the developmental and mental health needs of young children at environmental risk, particularly those who have been maltreated or exposed to other forms of trauma. A particular focus is preventing maladaptive outcomes in these populations through early childhood and parenting programs, such as early care and education, home visiting services, and infant mental health interventions.

Dr. Jones Harden received the doctoral degree in developmental and clinical psychology from Yale University, and the Master in Social Work degree from New York University.

Lila Lazarus
Closing Keynote Speaker

Lila Lazarus is an award-winning journalist who has anchored the news in Michigan, Maryland and Massachusetts. Lila runs a production company, Lila Productions, and currently hosts the award-winning Discover Remarkable series on WXYZ. Lila serves on multiple boards and is currently President of Kids Kicking Cancer. In addition, she is very involved with the Big Brothers/Big Sisters organization and has been a Big Sister for 20 years. Her professional accomplishments include covering Nelson Mandela's inauguration in South Africa and receiving multiple Emmy Awards, the Michigan Association of Broadcasters Award, two Clarion Awards and the American Society of Colon and Rectal Surgeons Award in back-to-back years.

August 2, 2017

Morning Exercise

6:30 a.m. – 7:30 a.m.

Day 1 Registration

7:30 a.m. – 8:15 a.m.

Breakfast and Opening Keynote

8:30 a.m. – 10:00 a.m.

Using a Trauma-Informed Approach in Home-Based Service Delivery - Dr. Brenda Jones Harden

This session will address the delivery of home visiting services to the most vulnerable of families (e.g., those affected by trauma). Using a trauma-informed lens, the session will identify strategies for engaging these high-risk families, for exploring parents' own experiences of adversities, for having "difficult conversations" with families, and for coaching parents to improve their parenting skills. Finally, the session will emphasize the importance of home visitor self-care to avoid the secondary trauma that can result from intervening with families contending with multiple risks.

Break & Exhibit Spotlight

10:00 a.m. – 10:30 a.m.

100 – Workshops

10:30 a.m. – 11:45 a.m.

101 - The Genesee County Healthy Start Engaged Father

Program: Dads and Kids Growing Together - Shawna Lee,

Dawn Scharer, Porsha Black, Shon Hart

Participants will learn new methods or ideas on how to better connect and engage with fathers and male role models and guide them to be an important factor in the lives of their children.

102 - How to Lead a CQI Team - Robin VanDerMoer,

Angela Precht

Productive and pleasant quality improvement (QI) work starts and ends with the team. From building a QI team with 'the right people' at the table to obtaining leadership support, the work to establish a happy and productive team requires strategic engagement and a leader that can provide inspiration and momentum. Once the team is assembled, many QI leaders find competing priorities, limited resources, and interpersonal challenges blocking the way to efficient and smooth QI team functioning. Join seasoned QI Advisors for a session focused on how to build, support, and maintain high-functioning QI teams. Participants will hear case studies of engagement strategies from the field, will explore and practice new QI facilitation tools, and will have space and time to work with unique team challenges with QI Advisors and participants experiencing similar 'pains' of QI teamwork.

103 - Infant Mental Health: Developing Competence and Building Relationships in the Infant and Early Childhood Field - Ashley McCormick, Joni Zieldorff, Amy Delira

This presentation examines what Endorsement® is and how it can be used to assist home visitors increase their effectiveness in their work with infants, toddlers and their families. Additionally, we will examine one of the fundamental values of infant mental health: "Importance of Relationships" and how a commitment to this value can inform and enrich one's professional development.

104 - Addressing Sensitive Issues with Families in Home Visiting Services - Dr. Brenda Jones Harden

This session will be a more clinically-intensive follow-up to the prior keynote which addressed the delivery of home visiting services to the most vulnerable of families, those affected by trauma. In a more refined manner, the session will identify strategies for engaging these high-risk families, for exploring parents' own experiences of adversities, for having "difficult conversations" with families, and for coaching parents to improve their parenting skills.

105 - Expanding Reflective Practices in Your Program 101

- Vickie Novell

This session will explore the differences between case specific supervision and reflective supervision. Core components of reflective supervision with individuals and groups, as well as self-assessment tools, will be explored and practiced. Supervisors will have the opportunity to reflect on their own skills and identify specific reflective supervision professional development goals and objectives.

106 - Parent-To-Parent: Connections ARE Community

- Bryn Fortune and Home Visiting Parent Leaders

Because it takes a village to raise a child, Parent-to-Parent connections are imperative for building successful communities and strong families. Join parent leaders from Michigan's Statewide Local Leadership Group as they share insight into how to create meaningful parent connections within home visiting programs. We will explore how parent to parent connections can benefit your program's effectiveness as well as encourage parents to connect, collaborate and create. We will offer resources needed to build successful parent to parent connections and identify components needed to assist parents to foster authentic relationships with other parents.

107 - Keeping Families Healthy: Promoting Vaccines Across the Lifespan - Courtney Londo, Amy Shears

Vaccines play an important role in keeping individuals safe from serious diseases. Learn about effective strategies for communicating with parents and caregivers about vaccines. Preventing diseases through vaccination helps ensure children are present at school and daycare in order to learn and grow.

108 - Let's Talk About Intimate Partner Violence

- Patty Marickovich

Intimate partner violence (IPV) affects everyone in the family. Home visitors have the capacity to recognize the impact of IPV, to respond effectively with information and to safely link families to domestic violence resources. But, this is a touchy subject! Fear and shame can prevent parents from opening up to their home visitor. This workshop is designed to give you skills on how to broach the subject, fully engage the parent, and know how to provide support.

SCHEDULE OF EVENTS

August 2, 2017

Lunch

11:45 a.m. – 1:00 p.m.

General Session

1:00 p.m. – 2:00 p.m.

A View of Men in 3Ds-Depression, Drugs and Domestic Violence - Kenn Harris

The subject of depression, domestic violence, drug, alcohol/drug substance abuse are challenging areas to consider in home visitation. This challenge becomes more intensified when working with the male partners of these women. Come learn how exploring these issues as they relate to men can help inform your approach and engagement with men and the entire families during home visits. Understanding the impact of his behavior on her increases your ability to support the family.

200 – Workshops

2:30 p.m. – 3:45 p.m.

201 - Environmental Health and Home - Laura Gossiaux, Sue Manente, Courtney Wisinski, Jill Maras

This panel will discuss safe fish consumption, lead in homes, and the new MiTracking program. Participants will leave this session with an expanded knowledge of environmental factors and the resources to improve the health of the children and infants with whom they work.

202 - Don't Worry, But Don't Wait: Referring to Early On Michigan - Victoria Meeder, Michelle DenBeste

This session will discuss the benefits of using the Early On Michigan program as an early intervention system for helping infants and toddlers who have a developmental delay or a diagnosed disability. Learn when you should make a referral and tips for having difficult conversations when sharing your concerns with parents. Learn about who is eligible for Early On services and what those services consist of. Upon completion of the session, participants will be able to explain to someone unfamiliar with Early On what services look like and what they entail.*

203 - Family Engagement: Turning Obstacles into Opportunities - Christy Roberts

The development of trusting relationships with families depends on sustained, ongoing interactions between parent educators and the families we serve. Because building relationships is at the core of everything we do, we have to get good at recognizing the barriers of what can make family engagement difficult. Testing strategies should be ongoing, as the climate is forever changing in the homes we are visiting. This session will provide tools and ideas to build these relationships with families.

204 - Addressing Sensitive Issues with Families in Home Visiting Services - Dr. Brenda Jones Harden

This session will be a more clinically-intensive follow-up to the prior keynote which addressed the delivery of home visiting services to the most vulnerable of families, those affected by trauma. In a more refined manner, the session will identify strategies for engaging these high-risk families, for exploring parents' own experiences of adversities, for having "difficult conversations" with families, and for coaching parents to improve their parenting skills.

205 - Expanding Reflectives Practices in Your Program 201 - Vickie Novell

Advanced/more indepth information to what was covered in session 105

206 - How to Attract Parents to Community Activities - Bryn Fortune and Home Visiting Parent Leaders

Michigan's Statewide Local Leadership Group Parent Leaders will share techniques and skills to successfully create community gatherings that will leave a lasting impression with parents wanting to return for more. This workshop is designed to be highly interactive and comes complete with a chance to win a raffle!

207 - Substance Use and Home Visiting - Sarah Kennedy

Substance use impacts many of the families served through various home visiting programs. This training has been developed for providers who work with families and individuals, but who do not have formal background or training in substance use. Participants will be able to identify signs and symptoms of substance use. Speaker will provide an overview of common substances, addictive behaviors, and how to reduce stigma associated with substance use.

208 - Helping to Find Child Care that Meets the Needs of the Family - Synthia Britton, Jordan Blough-Orr

Great Start to Quality is a great tool to help families find the care that works for them! This presentation will offer an overview to attendees on how to use the website, the services available to the families whom you work with, and the variety of child care options.

Break & Exhibit Spotlight

3:45 p.m. - 4:00 p.m.

300 - Workshops

4:00 p.m. - 5:15 p.m.

301 - Being a Teen Parent: Life has Changed But its NOT Over - Kendra Gibbs, Travis Neller, Niterrria Roland, Saleena Allred, Breanna Holloway

Throughout the nation teen pregnancy rates are going down, however in some communities births to teen parents make up more than 10% of the live births. Teen parents and their child represent an at-risk population that need the vital supports and services that home visiting programs provide. Unfortunately, many teens struggle to engage in services. The presentation intends to give some insight into better engaging teens in programs. Attendees will be encouraged to see teen parents through a different lens as capable parents who are able to set goals for themselves and their children and find success.

302 - Communities Leading Together, A Shared Leadership Training - Jane Pilditch, Gina Gembel, Chandra Jones

This session will share information about the Parent Leadership in State Government's, Communities Leading Together (CLT) program. The CLT is an intensive one-day leadership training for parent and professional teams to attend together. We will give an overview of the leadership philosophy and competencies of the training as well as some hands-on tools used in this program.
