TEXAS BOARD OF LEGAL SPECIALIZATION

STANDARDS FOR ATTORNEY CERTIFICATION

PART II

SPECIFIC AREA REQUIREMENTS

These are specific requirements that apply the specialty area listed below. The specific requirements include the definitions, substantial involvement, reference, and other certification and recertification requirements for the specialty area. You will also need to refer to the Standards for Attorney Certification, Part I – General Requirements for requirements that apply to all specialty areas.

SECTION VIII

REAL ESTATE LAW

(Area ID: RC – Commercial Real Estate Law / Year Started: 1983)

(Area ID: RF – Farm and Ranch Real Estate Law / Year Started: 1983)

(Area ID: RR – Residential Real Estate Law / Year Started: 1983)

(Area ID: RP – Property Owners Association Law / Year Started: 2017)

A. DEFINITIONS.

1. Real Estate Law. Real estate law is the rendering of advice and services concerning the laws applicable to land and the improvements and appurtenances (including air and subsurface estates) to land. It also includes the acquisition, transfer, development, financing and use of land; and includes without limitation, knowledge of the legal restrictions and constraints imposed privately and by local, state and federal governments upon land and the improvements to land.
2. Specialization Subcategories. Certification is available for 4 subcategories of real estate law defined below:
 - a. Residential Real Estate Law. Legal practice including advice and services in connection with the acquisition, ownership, leasing, financing, use, transfer and disposition of residential real property.
 - b. Commercial Real Estate Law. Legal practice involving advice and services in connection with the acquisition, ownership, leasing, financing, use, transfer and disposition of real property other than residential, farm, ranch, or oil, gas and mineral property.
 - c. Farm and Ranch Real Estate Law. Legal practice involving advice and services in connection with the acquisition, ownership, financing, use, transfer and disposition of farm and ranch property, including a basic knowledge of mineral rights.
 - d. Property Owners Association Law. Real property law practice involving advice and services in connection with common-interest developments, their mandatory-membership associations of real property owners, and the individual owners of real property in common-interest developments. A common-interest development is a real estate development with restrictive covenants that tie ownership of a unit or lot to membership in a property owners association to which the owners are obligated to pay assessments. Common-interest developments, such as condominiums and subdivisions, may have residential, nonresidential, or mixed uses. The property owners association typically maintains common property, provides services, and enforces restrictions burdening the common-interest development.
