The Future of the Automobile

Presented in person by Chris Chesney, CTI

Are you worried about changes in technology and the impact these changes have on your business? Are you struggling with services or diagnostics on modern vehicles? Well you aren't alone.

The future is here and the vehicles we service are changing at a more rapid rate than ever before. The technologies you'll see in your bays in the next 10 years are already being built and are in your shop today. But what about the technologies to come?

This presentation will cover not only the technologies, vehicles and services you'll see but will also illustrate the changes in how we all interact with the automobile in general. The goal of this presentation is not to scare you with technology change but to encourage you with opportunity and to enable you early enough to capitalize.
