

Week 36 9/3 – 9/9

And let us consider how to stir up one another to love and good works, not neglecting to meet together, as is the habit of some, but encouraging one another, and all the more as you see the Day drawing near. Hebrews 10:24-25 ESV

How can we do this right now as we sit and witness the devastation and destruction in Texas?
God wants us to be alert and who know how to pray for cities and nations.
I was feeling like I didn't know how.

God does not want us to be shaken by the nightly news.
I found that I was and I know I am not the only one.

On Wednesday, I sat in front of the TV, crying at the destruction, despair and devastation in Texas and then I cried because I was crying. There I was, sitting and crying because it is all too much to take in, meanwhile I am sitting safe and dry in my home, air conditioning running and complaining because it is soo hot.

That is when God interrupted me.

I don't know what to say except that strength that only He can provide entered and my tears stopped. To see what happened in the following hour, please read my post, Interrupted on my blog at www.homegrownhospitality.typepad.com
