MBIA's Future Industry Leaders Council (FIL) continues its educational breakfast series featuring highly-respected industry leaders in the fields of development, engineering, building and legal affairs discussing how they got started in the business and answering questions to help you advance your career.

Come for breakfast, a casual discussion and a lively Q&A.

Guest Speaker

With over 30 years' experience in the building industry, Jeff Caruso has been instrumental in the planning, development and construction of more than 70 residential communities throughout the Washington Metropolitan area, some of which include a condominium component. His current focus is to expand Caruso Homes into a regional home builder operating across the South Eastern United States. Currently Caruso Homes is active in entitling and developing over 3,000 lots in Maryland and North Carolina.

Jeff is a 20-year member of the National Association of Home Builders as well as a member of NAHB's Builder 20 organization, and is an expert in all aspects of development and construction with many designations including a Master in Residential Marketing and Certified Active Adult Specialist in Housing. Jeff is also a member of the Community Development Committee for Urban Land Institute and the 2018 President of MBIA.
