Subject: Voluntary Recall of Certain Golden Flake, Good Health, and Utz Brand Tortilla Chips Because of Possible Dairy Allergen

Utz Quality Foods, LLC, out of an abundance of caution is voluntarily recalling select expiration dates of specific Golden Flake, Good Health and Utz Brand Tortilla chips due to a potential contamination with an undeclared dairy allergen.

During a scheduled capital installation project, kettle chips flavored with dairy containing seasonings were in proximity to tortilla items, such that cross-contact could have occurred. We do not have confirmation that this occurred, and furthermore any contact would have been unlikely and isolated. However, out of an abundance of caution we are recalling all tortilla items produced on this one line during that installation time period.

This event was isolated and extraordinary, and is not our standard manufacturing practice. We have since reverted back to customary product conveyance, such that the products are separated and the opportunity for cross-contact is not present.

Consumers are urged NOT to eat this product subject to the voluntary recall. Consumers who purchased the certain product are encouraged to return it to the store where it was purchased for a full refund or exchange, or they may simply discard it.

There have been no reported illnesses associated with this voluntary recall.

The product items and expiration dates being recalled are:
