Trying to measure behavioral health needs and disparities among LGBTQ (lesbian, gay, bisexual and transgender) youth? This Web Event will provide best practices, lessons learned from the field, examples, and recommendations regarding data collection, planning, applying and using data, and overcoming potential challenges. The presenters will highlight approaches that can be applied by SAMHSA System of Care Expansion grantees that are required to develop Behavioral Health Disparity Impact Statements (BHDIS), and by any state, community, tribe, or territory that is working to strengthen their strategies to eliminate disparities.
