THE PEOPLE OF THE PARK:

Kelly Haragan

"We Need You to Work for Us"

by Dale Dauten

When Rhonda Ciacco became General Manager of Silverridge and The Resort, one of the first things she did was promote Kelly Haragan to take her old job as Maintenance Manager. "He was my lead person," Rhonda says, "and I knew he was the right one for the job. He's the kind of guy who, if he sees something that needs fixing, he just does it. And it doesn't matter if it's during regular work hours or not. I sometimes see him working so late that I tell him, 'If you don't go home, I'm going to have to fire you.' That's become our standard joke. Sometimes he objects and I'll say, 'Okay, you're fired.' Then I add, 'And I'll see you in the morning.'"

As for Kelly, he still remembers the day back in '05 when he first became an employee: Working for an electrical contractor, he'd been on a crew doing jobs around both Silverridge and The Resort. What he didn't know was that Rhonda, still Maintenance Manager at the time, had been noticing the quality of his work. "One day I was digging a trench for a new electrical cable," Kelly recalls. "It was a deep one where I was down to where just the top of my head was above ground, and I see someone up above me and it was Rhonda. She said, 'We need you to work for us.'" Kelly took the job. (Who can say no to Rhonda?) And eventually moved into The Resort.

"An Arizona Christmas"

Sue Arneson, Activity Director

It was Christmas 2005 and we were about to experience our first Christmas in Arizona. How excited we were to hang Christmas decorations in balmy 70 degree weather! No more frozen hands trying to string Christmas lights! I still remember Christmas shopping and carrying packages to the car and thinking "I'm not wearing a jacket and I don't even have to let the car warm up!"

Then reality set in. My husband still has scars today from stringing lights on our saguaro. I sort of missed the snow (ha) - not to mention that I was homesick for our children. Luckily, just as a mild depression was setting in, we attended a Christmas show at the old Broadway Palms. The old familiar Christmas songs were sung, the cast was dressed in wooly clothes and everything was beautifully decorated for Christmas. I left with a lighter heart and different attitude. I realized that no matter where we are in our journey, whether at Silveridge celebrating Christmas with our family here or back at our homes, we carry the meaning and the memories of Christmas in our hearts. Since that time I have come to appreciate all our Christmases in Arizona. The desert has its own kind of beauty with its mountains and glorious sunsets. Let us all remember the beauty that lies within each of us. We need to share our blessings. Once again the Silveridge Santa decorators are sponsoring a toy drive. Please give generously so the children in our community will have toys under the tree. For all those who give in so many ways, thank you. Remember to thank all those behind the scenes who make our lives better. And no matter where we are in our journey let us remember to keep Christmas always in our hearts.

Christmas in Arizona

The visitor sadly shook his head as he basked in the tropical sun..

"Call this Christmas?" to us he said, "Well, not where I come from."

"Christmas needs snow, ice and cold. And the sound of sleigh bells ring.
And as for me, I can't be sold on this winter that feels like Spring."

We looked at him and then we smiled, as he scoffed aloud at our plight.
And we felt pity and were not riled: Cause he was far from right."

For no snow fell on Bethlehem on the night the first star shown.
There was no blizzard nor howling gale that swept with a shriek and a moan.

The breeze was soft and what is more,, the night the Christ Child came Hibiscus bloomed near the stable door and Mary murmured His name

The Heavenly Host in the starry sky, Proclaimed the birth of the King
And the rustling palms echoed the cry, as the whole world seemed to sing.

So we find here, in our sun drenched land, untouched by ice and snow..
That the Spirit of Christmas is near at hand, and we feel God willed it so.

Thank you to Don and Sharon Beckett who are the lead volunteers for the movies at our theater. Don is scheduling the movie operators while Sharon schedules the movies and popcorn volunteers. Please see Sharon or Don if you have any suggestions for movies. At the time of this newsletter movies are shown on Friday and Saturdays at 7:00pm. Wednesday matinees will resume in January if there are enough operators. There still is a need for more operators. Please see Don Beckett if you can volunteer. Please be a team player and offer to stay after the movie to clean up. How about bringing your honey and calling it a date night!

How many of you know that the theater has ESPN? The theater is available to watch sports, but not on a movie day or night. Because of the valuable equipment the theater is locked at all times unless there is a scheduled showing for movies, or sports. Only trained operators may run the equipment! Requests for theater sports need to be turned in at the activity desk by noon on Friday. There must be a minimum of six people attending. ### ** Note from a Volunteer

As you enter the ballroom on a Tuesday on your way to a boogie or a Thursday for a dinner show do you take a moment to look around and admire or appreciate the decorations? Or better yet how many check out the Christmas displays in the lobby and around the clubhouse?

No problem or so I thought, I can spare an hour on Tuesdays to set up the tables- never taking the time to think about how or when these things came together. Well since joining the volunteer decorating group I have discovered how much goes on behind the scenes. There are literally hours every week on planning, organizing and preparing for set up and take down at the end of every event. The leader, Yvonne Rowley and her volunteers do it all! Your help in clearing your tables at the end of the event is much appreciated! As the saying goes, many hands make for light work. If you are someone who enjoys seeing these decorations we could use your help. If you can spare an extra hour please sign up at the Activity Boards. Many Thanks!

A fun
Pickleball Social was held on
Nov. 11th

At the time he started at the parks, he'd recently moved to Mesa from Southern California. Although he'd grown up in Eastern New Mexico, mostly around Clovis, he'd spent the past 30 years in Los Angeles. He'd grown tired of fighting the crowds and the traffic in the San Fernando Valley and was ready for a change.

I asked Kelly how he chose to move to Mesa and he said, "My ex-brother-in-law let me move into one of his rooms. And he offered me a job."

An EX-brother-in-law?

"Yeah, I'd gotten divorced but I stayed in touch with him. Still do. I don't know what happened to my ex-wife – I never talk to her."

(Something about that story makes me think of the country song, "My wife ran off with my best friend... and I sure do miss him.")

It was that same ex-bro that offered Kelly a job helping out with his electrical contracting accounts, including some work at the RV parks.

Kelly now has two year-round employees reporting to him at each park, as well as two "work campers" who are seasonal residents of each park. Every morning the teams go over their checklists and their work orders.

(Any resident who spots something amiss can report it to the office, and they generate the work orders.)

When asked what's the most common task, Kelly replied that it's the irrigation system with all the sprinklers and drip emitters. "There must be four or five hundred emitters at each park, and with the hard water out here, there's plenty to replace."

In addition to his full-time job, Kelly takes on plenty of additional work for residents. "Mostly it's plumbing," he explained. "Usually there's some kind of leak. I've gone out at all hours, sometimes the middle of the night. The people are grateful and I'm happy to help."

He smiled and added, "Just about everybody knows me."

And just about everybody would understand what Rhonda means when she said, "I remember when I first saw his work and I started thinking, 'We gotta have him.'"
