

Anthony Ortiz joins Illinois Premier as a consulting baseball performance data analyst. He comes to us from the Seattle Mariners High Performance Department, where he analyzed performance metrics, coordinated project implementation, and drove overall department direction and goal setting.

Ortiz played four years of NCAA DIII baseball for the Lawrence University Vikings in Appleton, Wisconsin, primarily as an infielder. He received two Academic All-Conference Awards during his playing career there. In 2018, he graduated with a bachelor's degree in Chemistry with a minor in Economics.

Anthony has managed various travel teams from 12U-17U throughout the Midwest and has extensive experience in preparing practice plans and strength training regimens for youth athletes. After two years with the Mariner's organization, Anthony has decided to go back to school and pursue his MBA at the University of Rochester—Simon Business School, starting in the fall of 2020. Anthony is looking forward to helping the Illinois Premier organization make data-driven decisions through developing individualized goals and action steps to drive baseball instruction and maximize our athletes' performance potential.
