Her books include Preaching as Testimony and Inscribing the Word, as well as two forthcoming books: 'A' is for Alabaster: A Preacher's Alphabet, and Come Back When You've Found Something True: New Ways to Read Scripture. She is a frequent teacher and lecturer in this country and abroad. Anna and her husband have two grown sons. They also have two dogs, two cats, a flock of chickens, and way too much knitting yarn.

The Association of Smaller Congregations (ASC) was organized in 1987 to serve congregations in Florida, Georgia, and South Carolina having fewer than 200 members. The group seeks in their conferences to lift up these smaller congregations, offering tools and support, promoting their unique strengths and needs, and providing opportunities for fellowship, education, creative thinking and sharing. For more information and registration find us online and join the conversation on Facebook.

Workshop Tracks

We're doing things a little differently this year to give everyone something hands-on to take away from the conference. Instead of multiple unrelated workshops from which you can choose three, this year you will choose one workshop track from the four below. You will meet with your track cohort three times, with each session progressing a little further through the subject. At the end of the weekend, you will have some practical next steps to take back to your congregation on whichever topic you choose. If you've signed up for a missional track with Herb Coddington in the past, then you will be familiar with this format. When you register, please sign up for one of the following workshop tracks:

Choosing Reconciliation & Hope - Mary Beene

Conflict in the church is as old as the church itself – just look at Paul's letters and the book of Acts. But we are called to be reconciled – to Christ and to each other. How can we make our congregations places of reconciliation and hope even in conflict?

New Day, New Opportunities: Leadership Choices – Lawrence Peebles

Your church can have a preacher, but it may not look the way it used to look. This track will explore the social and financial realities of calling a preacher in the twenty-first century.

Asset Mapping & Leadership: Choosing Your Church's Future – Jamil el-Shair

Let's identify your assets that will allow you to have pastoral leadership and ruling elders for today and tomorrow. There is a great deal available to accomplish what you need. Let's discover your assets together.

Choosing to Work Together: Clusters & Partnerships – Lisa Culpepper & Herb Coddington

Lisa Culpepper and Herb Coddington are participants in two separate "missional clusters" in South Carolina. These two clusters of smaller membership churches have a combined thirty years of experience of doing collaborative ministry. In the class we will discuss the benefits of doing ministry together, key principles in cluster ministry and the process of forming partnerships among smaller membership congregations. Helpful resources in cluster ministry will also be made available.
