Profiles

This week we continue our new feature in the bulletin with latest installment of PROFILES

Each week, we profile a different family in a (hopefully) fun and non-invasive mannerto help us get to know our fellow shul members. This week we spotlight the Bar Mitzvah boy Shimi Rothman.

TCS: Mazel Tov on your Bar Mitzvah. How are the preparations going?

Shimi: Quite well. I feel confident. My teacher Richie Stoll has me well prepared.

TCS: Any aspect of the parasha that resonates with you?

Shimi: I do see a connection between my having a sense of fashion at an early age and the details of the Kohen Gadol's clothing.

TCS: Do you have any siblings?

Shimi: My brother Isaac is seven and I have 2 sisters Solika who is nine and Ariella who is five.

TCS: Do they look up to you?

Shimi: I hope so.

TCS: Do you like to boss them around?

Shimi: Who doesn't like to boss around their younger siblings?

TCS: Your sense of fashion is very mature. To whom do you attribute that?

Shimi: From my grandfather, Rabbi Rothman but also a good friend who has in a way challenged me to match his taste in fashion.

TCS: You are so comfortable and charming around adults. Where does that come from?

Shimi: I don't like people judging others because of age. Even a much younger person who does not have the same amount of experience has something to offer.

TCS: Which school do you attend?

Shimi: I am in grade 7 in Eitz Chaim.

TCS: What is your favourite subject in school?

Shimi: Math because I like challenging myself.

TCS: And your least favourite subject?

Shimi: I am not a big fan of writing and keeping my writing neat.

TCS: Do you have any hobbies?

Shimi: Lots. I have a big monopoly collection as well as stamp and coin collections. I love video games. I play keyboards and used to play flute but it annoys people so I dropped it. I am not a big sports fan except for playing hockey.

TCS: Your Dad has taken up running and reached a half marathon in a very respectable time. Have you taken up running and can you keep up with your Abba?

Shimi: I do run with him. I have done a bunch of 5 KM runs. And my Abba has trouble keeping up with me at times. Currently he is working on longer distances, which are not ideal for the physical development of younger kids.

TCS: Your best 5 km time?

Shimi: 26 minutes.

TCS: That's pretty impressive. If you were to do a Chai Lifeline run in the future which one excites you the most?

Shimi: Probably Miami because Chai Lifeline Canada is more involved with that one.

TCS: What is it like having your Abba as President and creator of Chai Lifeline Canada?

Shimi: Very cool. I get to see interesting things and meet interesting people.

TCS: Are you more like your Mom or your Dad?

Shimi: I am probably more like my Dad. Maybe it is a guy thing that I can connect with him.

TCS: Which parent is tougher?

Shimi: My dad is the tougher one but they are both easy going.

TCS: Describe your experiences at TCS?

Shimi: It is really cool that my grandfather is the Rabbi. We have been going for as long as I remember.

TCS: What do you want to be when you grow up?

Shimi: Business and computer science are two possibilities. My grandfather on my mother's side is a role model as far as being a businessman goes.

TCS: Name three things you put ketchup on.

Shimi: Eggs.

TCS: Good.

Shimi: French Fries.

TCS: Very good.

Shimi: Hamburgers.

TCS: Noooooooooooooooooo!

TCS: Something about you that makes your Abba and Ima proud.

Shimi: Getting good grades.

Mom: I am very proud when Shimi reaches out to others and helps them with whatever they need. When he makes sure his friends and family members are happy. Shimi has a lot of potential to make a real difference in this world and I would be the proudest to see him do his best in life, make good choices and never give up on his dreams.

Dad: When someone comes up to me and tells me what a Mensch Shimi is and I know that he is a mensch even when we are not around.

TCS: Tell us something that even friends might not know about you.

Shimi: I really like solving puzzles.

TCS: So Stuart our president elect is busy this week in Tyler, Texas planting new roses for Michelle for Valentines 2019. We can only pray that they are as beautiful as the flowers Stuart gave Michelle this year. While Stuart is away we are making you president for the week. What changes will you make?

Shimi: I would start with the groups and have more variety. Then I would switch the classrooms around and make better use of the storage space in the shul.

TCS: Before we sign off any shoutouts?

Shimi: A shoutout to my Grandfathers and my Grandmothers.

END

Sholosh Seudot “You Gotta be Kiddin’ Me” Halacha Discussion

Reuven had $100,000 that he wanted to change into shekels, when the dollar was a low rate of 3.3 shekels to the dollar. He gave his money to Shimon with the request that he bring it to a money changer and make the transaction on his behalf.

Shimon took the money, but on the way to the money changer he reconsidered. “Why should I go to the money changer to buy shekels? I have 330,000 shekels in the bank. I’ll trade Reuven’s money myself.” He kept the money, withdrew 330,000 shekels from his account, and gave it to Reuven.

A year later Reuven had a similar request. He had 400,000 shekels that he wanted to trade into dollars, after the dollar had risen to the rate of 4 shekels per dollar. He once again asked Shimon to make the transaction on his behalf.

Shimon took the money, but then remembered about the $100,000 that Reuven had previously given him. “Here is a chance to make an easy profit of 70,000 shekels,” he thought to himself. He took Reuven’s $100,000 that he had bought last year and returned it to him, keeping the 400,000 shekels for himself.

“Thank you for your business,” Shimon said, as he returned the $100,000 and explained what he had done.

A week later Reuven again approached Shimon and asked for a loan of 70,000 shekels. Shimon happily lent him the 70,000 he had made off the dollar exchange, but when Reuven took it, he grinned and said, “Listen Shimon, this 70,000 shekel is mine and you’re not getting it back. You held on to my $100,000 for a year and then gave it back to me. What gives you the right to make 70,000 shekels from it?”
