

As a Miramichi fisherman, I know I should (and need!) to do my part to help with this continuing effort. And while I can't actually roll up my sleeves and jump in the river and help out, I can certainly try and assist those who do! That's why I'm a member of the Miramichi Salmon Association (MSA) – because they're the ones doing the conservation field work, improving the river habitat, pushing the scientific research and advocating on the Miramichi salmon's behalf. It's the one organization that is singularly focused on the Miramichi salmon.

But there's also another little thing I can do to help out, and that's to personally reach and ask all of my fishing friends and acquaintances to join me in being an MSA member. If you're already a member (that's great!), maybe you'd also be willing to help recruit few new members... but if you're not an MSA member, please consider becoming one today! It's this simple:

1. Go to www.miramichisalmon.ca and click on the 'Become A Member' button;
2. Put my name in the "Referred by" Box please!

Thank you and I hope you'll join me by becoming an MSA member today! The organization really needs our support!!
