

There are those who like to eat turkey on Christmas Day and those who live to eat turkey on Christmas Day. For the latter, there's Huber's Butchery. The Christmas catalogue is a cornucopia of carnivorous offerings – US turkey, duck, veal, lamb, goose with giblets, Spanish suckling pig and ham (honey, smoked, Kurobuta, salted gammon and glazed ham hock). The beef hails from Australia, the US and Argentina, and options include a Wagyu from Down Under with a marbling score of six to seven. Tack on all the extras – sage or apple and pecan stuffing, chestnuts, crab bisque, mint jelly and a special Christmas spice rub created by 1 Rochester Group's executive chef, Christopher Millar, and you are ready to let the good times roll. All items, except the ham hock, are sold uncooked.
