

The Texas Campaign to Prevent Teen Pregnancy is a non-partisan, non-profit organization established in 2009 and dedicated to the prevention of teen pregnancy in Texas. We are focused on creating a constructive dialogue and effective on-the ground strategies around teen pregnancy prevention and adolescent sexual health with a four-pronged approach:

Strengthen: Increasing the capacity of community members to address the complex issue of teen pregnancy by creating and leading a statewide network of local stakeholders who share a common agenda, coordinate activities, and track shared measures to build momentum for systemic statewide change.

Connect: Customizing approaches that build the capacity of local Texas stakeholders to develop evidence-based approaches to teen pregnancy prevention that address the unique circumstances in their communities.

Provide: Communicating accurate, research-based information about what is working, and leveraging the strength of the statewide network to advocate for constructive change.

Engage: Creating big tent solutions to teen pregnancy by raising awareness about effective prevention programs and policies, and communicating information and ideas for talking to youth about healthy adolescent sexual development.
