

Update on SafetySync training

Cheryl Dahlager, Process Services Manager

We're pleased to announce that our first interactive training course, Static, Grounding and Bonding, launched on ERAC's learning management system, SafetySync. ERAC has developed a new HTML format for curriculum development and standards for online training; this format will allow responders to be more engaged with the learning material. We'll continue to launch new courses as they're developed. Please feel free to review the new course at any time. If you complete the new course and quiz you'll be compliant for one year. Alternatively, you can wait until your course is due to complete the new course and quiz.

ICS 200 will become mandatory for RMAs, TAs, Response Team Leads and Alternate Team Leads effective January 1, 2018. ICS 200 is currently enabled in your portal as optional; once it is enabled as mandatory it'll affect your overall compliance.

On June 30, 2017, ERAC started tracking fall prevention training for all our responders. This was enabled as a mandatory certificate requirement. Currently the compliance for this certificate for ERAC response teams is 47 per cent. As a reminder, we request that you upload your certificate to SafetySync to ensure you're compliant.

Feel free to contact either joanna.bossert@erac.org or cheryl.dahlager@erac.org at any time if you have questions regarding SafetySync or your compliance.
