

Cycle of Risk: The Intersection of Poverty, Violence, and Trauma

Heartland Alliance Report Calls for Fighting Poverty and Treating Trauma As Solutions to Violence in Illinois

We are experiencing a surge of lethal violence in Chicago and staggering rates of poverty across Illinois. Poverty and violence often intersect, feed one another, and share root causes. The resulting trauma directly feeds back into the cycle. People of color are far more likely to experience violence and fare far worse in Illinois on poverty and well-being.

This report at its essence is a call to action to intervene in this cycle and address the huge moral, human, and economic toll of these deep inequities in Illinois. Through an array of policy solutions, from criminal justice reform to investing in evidence-based solutions such as education, health, jobs, and housing, we can make Illinois a safer place for everyone.

Greetings!

On Friday, March 17, 2017 SCY will host the next training in our series for capacity building titled Become a Spokesperson for Violence as a Health Issue. We invite you to join us to not only acknowledge violence as a public health concern, but to become equipped with the best resources necessary to be a leader in this effort. SCY is confident that such city-wide efforts will contribute to ways that communities and officials see acts of violence and how to address them.

Sincerely,

Rebecca Levin, MPH
