

In 50 words or less answer the following question:

What economic advice would you give to the President of the United States (POTUS)?

My economic advice is for you to push unemployment even lower through large tax cuts and vast infrastructure spending.

In 50 words or less answer the following question:

What economic advice would you give to the President of the United States (POTUS)?

I think you should invest in increasing the skills of the labor force through better education and training.

In 50 words or less answer the following question:

What economic advice would you give to the President of the United States (POTUS)?

Invest in our families. Support policies that provide income assistance to help struggling moms and dads make ends meet.