(Wyoming Community Foundation announces grant application deadline)

- The Wyoming Community Foundation announced that the deadline for submitting applications for grants is Friday, June 15.
- All applications focused on fulfilling community needs will be considered.

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LARAMIE - The Wyoming Community Foundation (WYCF) has announced that the deadline for submitting applications for grants is Friday, June 15. Any nonprofit focused on making positive changes in Wyoming communities should consider requesting funds before time runs out.

The Sublette Local Board of the Wyoming Community Foundation will be advising on the applications. In the most recent grant cycle, $48,644 was granted to the following area nonprofits:

- Audubon of the Rockies
- Children's Discovery Center
- Friends of Big Piney Recreation
- Greater Wyoming Big Brothers Big Sisters
- Main Street Pinedale
- Sublette County Sexual Assault and Family Violence
- Town of Marbleton

WYCF accepts a wide range of applications and all applications will be accepted for review. Grant applications will be given priority if they clearly work toward fulfilling a community need.

The Wyoming Community Foundation is a statewide nonprofit. WYCF holds funds to support nonprofit organizations that are working to make their community, and Wyoming stronger. Each year the Wyoming Community Foundation distributes hundreds of grants. In 2017 grants totaled $6.3 million, impacting nearly every corner of the state.

“We have two grant deadlines each year,” says Program Associate, Anita McLaughlin. “We receive so many incredible applications and aim to distribute funds to nonprofits who are really making a difference in their communities.”
