SPEAKERS

Ben Cort
Director of Professional Relations
Center for Dependency Addiction and Rehabilitation (CeDAR), Aurora, Colorado

“Marijuana State Wide”

Ben Cort’s passion for recovery, prevention, and harm reduction comes from his own struggle with substance abuse. Sober since 6/15/96, Ben has been a part of the recovery community in almost every way imaginable, from a recipient to a provider to a spokesperson, Cort has a deep understanding of the issues and a personal motivation to see the harmful effects of drug and alcohol abuse minimized.

In 2012, Cort left his position as an HR director with a Denver based S&P 500 firm to help start the Colorado-based nonprofit, Phoenix Multisport (PM). As an original board member and their first full time employee, he was instrumental in building this organization that has received frequent national recognition for their innovative approach to building sober communities around sport and healthy activities.

Cort joined the drug policy conversation at the national level in 2012 after leaving PM to join the “No on 64” Campaign. Following the passage of A64, Cort was appointed to the Board of Directors of Project Smart Approaches to Marijuana (SAM). His interest in the intersection of recovery and public policy has made him a frequent guest in the media and popular speaker.

In 2015, Cort started Addiction Treatment Marketers Organization (ATMO), an organization advocating for responsible and ethical marketing practices in the addiction treatment field. ATMO provides a framework for organizations to improve their practices and education to individuals in the field.

Cort currently serves as Director of Professional Relations for CeDAR, a world-class center for residential addiction and co-occurring disorders treatment in Aurora, CO, that is part of the University of Colorado Health System.

Jody Sanborn
Prevention Specialist
Wyoming Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (WCADVSA)

“Primary Prevention: A Crucial Tool for Creating Healthy Communities”

Jody Sanborn is a Prevention Specialist for the Wyoming Coalition Against Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (WCADVSA). In this position, Jody leads efforts for primary sexual violence prevention in Wyoming and co-facilitates the Wyoming Sexual Violence Prevention Council. She has experience as a national, state, and local trainer specializing in rural community education, organizing and mobilization, and college populations. She is passionate about collective impact and evaluation for social change. As a trainer, she has facilitated training at the national Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) Rape Prevention and Education (RPE) Grantee meetings, Regional Primary Prevention Conference, numerous state-wide conferences, and local presentations and workshops. Additionally, Jody is a former national trainer for Mentors in Violence Prevention (MVP) and a former Office for Victims of Crime Training and Technical Assistance Center (OCV TTAC) consultant. Jody was published in the Journal of Aggression, Maltreatment & Trauma (2013), “Addressing Sexual Assault within Social Systems: System Justification as a Barrier to College Prevention Efforts.” She holds a Bachelor’s degree in Psychology and a Master’s degree in Education with an emphasis in Adult and Postsecondary Education. Jody is a recipient of the 2014 National Sexual Violence Resource Center’s “Visionary Voice Award.”
