Peter Lamont

Peter Lamont has lived in northern New Mexico for the past seventeen years. Known for its perfect light and extreme topography, the area re-ignited his passion for photography. Embracing the new technologies, he pushes the limits of digital imaging. Peter's work is featured in homes and businesses across the United States and is commissioned by world class athletes skiing the slopes of Taos.

Returning home to the Kawarthas brought new inspiration, his images capturing life on Stony Lake where he now resides during the summer months.

His subject matter cannot be confined. It ranges from traditional vistas to the abstract, from tranquil moments to life in motion. Peter's diversity of presentation and scope of vision has swiftly earned him Canadian recognition as his work continues to be in demand.
