Instructions:

- Please fill out one survey per organization/teaching artist.
- This data is for the current school year, 2017-2018.
- Enter Data for ONLY DC Public School Students served (and anticipated to serve) through arts education programming.

This survey takes an average of 20 minutes, depending on the amount of programming you offer.

Prior to the survey, have the following items handy:

- Organization budget information (including funding breakdowns by source, e.g. government, corporate, foundation, individual, earned revenue...)
- Education department budget (total budget including salaries/other admin expenses)
- List of schools served by program area
- Estimated numbers of students/teachers/administrators served
- You may need to reach out to the point person for your organization's budget, education program registration personnel and program development personnel when you to complete this survey.

Note: Our humanities/creative focused organizations and practitioners should still fill out this survey. If your organization does not offer arts education or an arts integrated approach there is an option to enter that information in the survey.

Any Given Child DC – Arts & Humanities
Organization/Artist Surveys Worksheet

Thank you!

Thank you for filling out this survey. Your response has been recorded.

Please contact Tracey Wyton- Tracey@DCCollaborative.org 202-470-6467 ext. 2 if you have any questions or would like a record of your response. We will be in touch if we have questions.

Through the Any Given Child initiative the DC Collaborative is first taking a comprehensive look at the state of arts education in Washington, DC for PreK-12 in-school time programming. We will expand into humanities focused disciplines as well as out-of-school time, early childhood and arts for the aging disciplines in the second year (2018-2019 school year) of our work.
