

Smithsonian
Anacostia Community Museum

GATEWAYS/PORTALES

TEACHER

WORKSHOP

In collaboration with the Teaching for Change, the museum invites DCPS middle and high school teachers to this special workshop related to the exhibition, Gateways/Portales. Teachers will be introduced to a unit on teaching Central America in the Classroom. This includes a workshop with interactive activities, film clips, and an introduction to children's book focusing on Latinx culture groups, but with a focus on Central America. Teaching for Change will provide all books and resources. Teachers also get a tour of the Gateways exhibition by curator, Dr. Ariana Curtis, a gallery guide, and bi-lingual family and visitor's guide. A delicious lunch will be provided courtesy of Tortilla Café, Washington, DC.

Friday, March 31, 2017
1:30pm-3:30pm
Program Room
1901 Fort Place SE
Washington, DC 20020

For more information: 202-633-4849

Hispanics, the New Italians, 2015, Rosalia Torres-Weiner, Charlotte, NC
Courtesy of Cindy and Randy Rice