

Introducing Walking with Purpose

"God cares about how you love yourself. There's a lot of talk about the importance of self-care, and I am all for it. But true self-care should be more than a band aid; it should address how your soul is doing. Your heart matters to God. He doesn't just want you to believe the right things or behave in a certain way.

As a truly good Father, He wants your heart to flourish." - Lisa Brenninkmeyer
