Sea Isle City's annual Sara the Turtle Festival on June 28 entertained and educated countless children and their families. Hosted by the City's Division of Tourism, the event took place at Excursion Park and featured live animal exhibits, displays from numerous environmental organizations and other enjoyable attractions. The festival began with the annual Sara the Turtle Diaper Derby Crawling Contest featuring a collection of babies who delighted audience members...

The winners of this year's Sara the Turtle Diaper Derby Crawling Contest are shown below with their parents: Benjamin Bascelli, 11-months, of West Chester, PA, first place (center); Rex Kunkoski, 10-months, of Bowleys Quarters, Maryland, second place (at left); and Nina Johnson, 10-months, of Quakertown, PA, third place...

The Turtlesingers also entertained families during the Sara the Turtle Festival...
