

RECENT PHOTOS:

May 10, 2018 E-Newsletter

On April 27, Sea Isle City's Historical Society, Environmental Commission and Garden Club hosted an Arbor Day Celebration at the Historical Museum's Memorial Garden, where four new trees were dedicated...

During the Arbor Day Celebration, the Environmental Commission honored member Bob Thibault (shown below, at left with Commission Chairperson Annette Lombardo) and the Historical Society honored member Eleanor Moore (shown below, at right with Society President Abby Powell)...

The Historical Society also honored members Jennie Hadfield and Dave Barry for their many years of service and their commitment to preserving history...

Also during the Arbor Day Celebration, a new Sycamore Tree was dedicated to Mike McHale. In addition to being a past Mayor, Commissioner and City Councilman in Sea Isle City, Mr. McHale is also a former Captain with the Sea Isle City Beach Patrol, a past President of the Historical Society and he is currently active with the City's Shade Tree and Beautification Committees, Saint Joseph Catholic Church and other organizations in Sea Isle City. He is shown below in front of the sycamore tree with (from left) his daughter-in-law Kirsten McHale, granddaughter Annie McHale, 3 months, daughter Judy Babbo, wife Marlene, granddaughter Molly McHale, 3, Historical Society President Abby Powell and Historical Society Vice-President Marie Peltier...

The Arbor Day Celebration also featured a musical presentation by Judy Babbo and Jim Maher, as well as refreshments inside the Historical Museum...

To add to the Arbor Day Celebration, guests were offered free tree seedlings, provided courtesy of the New Jersey DEP...

# #